

Law Enforcement Training

Course Evaluation Comments

HIGH RISK ENTRIES/TACTICAL MOVEMENT COURSE

STRENGTHS OF THIS COURSE:

- The knowledge of the instructors and the fact you really involve the students for input. Real world knowledge of instructors.
- Force on force adds a realistic feel to training that is as close to real life as possible.
- Instructors possessed loads of experience and different styles brought lots to the training.
- Excellent teambuilding and different approaches to resolve tactical problems.
- Different methods of clearing were very helpful. Looking at different ways to use tactics.
- Info from this training can also be utilized in a military mission.
- Instructor abilities to be open to other ideas.
- Many reps at room clearing.
- Big help with our room tactics as 3-4 man teams.
- Making students aware of surroundings and other possible suspects or threats.
- Varying viewpoints, collaborative effort to make the best decision.
- Instructors are very strong and are very knowledgeable.
- There is a good portion of this course pertaining to active shooter scenario. This ties in with current Department training.
- Strengths were more hands on scenarios and less lecture. That is how cops learn best. Good job.
- Course gave me more tools to take back to my officers in regards to building searches and active shooters.
- Course was more beneficial tactically to the new SWAT officers who have not experienced team movements.
- This course was beneficial to the seasoned tactical officer in regards to SOP's, debriefing procedures, surrender commands and getting to see other crafts used by other agencies.
- The comprehensive explanation presented during each scenario.
- Professional presentation.
- The instructor's ability to individualize a scenario and offer positive connection. All around positive experience.